Consultants

Landskapsarkeologerna (The Landscape Archaeologists) are a group of five consultant companies that have joined together to provide unique, nationwide expertise in cultural heritage, historic environments, landscape maintenance and cultural history.

Need help with regard to the cultural and historic environment when carrying out an exploitation project? Do you need to know what ancient monuments may exist on or under the ground? Or what cultural assets need to be identified and how they can be documented, preserved or removed? Or are you interested in showcasing valuable historical sites or objects by means of information projects, educational programmes or other such endeavours?

We would be pleased to assist you with information or documentation projects, archaeological surveys, educational programmes and impact assessments. We are also able to provide general advice on many aspects of history and cultural heritage.

We welcome your questions!

Working side by side, we will help you analyse what needs to be done and with what resources. We are happy to provide quotes on both small and large commissions.

Our services

We undertake all sorts of commissions in the fields of archaeology and cultural history:

- Archaeological investigations and excavations
- Inventories of ancient monuments
- Analyses of sites in regard to cultural heritage
- Landscape analyses
- Archaeological assessments and impact analyses
- Preservation and maintenance plans
- Lectures and excursions
- Information material: interpretation panels, folders and brochures, exhibits
- Book projects
- Advice and guidance
- Educational programmes

Covering Sweden

Who we are

Our offices

We have been involved in the archaeological community for a long time.

The consultants at Landskapsarkeologerna worked at the Swedish National Heritage Board and various universities as far back as the 1970s before forming their own companies in the 1990s. Now we are linked in a nationwide network.

Our trademark is our broad experience of cultural heritage and archaeological landscape issues in all parts of Sweden. Ancient monuments have been protected by law in Sweden since the 17th century and the national database now registers over 1.7 million.

Our vision is to combine our expertise in the fields of archaeology and history with current and future developments in community planning.

Our fields of expertise:

- Prehistoric and historic ancient monument sites
- Agrarian landscape development
- Mines, metallurgy and mining history
- The coastal landscape, from the Stone Age to modern times
- Sami territorial landscapes and their history
- Ancient forestal remains and the history of outlying areas
- The development of cultural heritage management in Sweden
